The Polar Snow Cap of Mars.

A telegram received at Harvard observatory from Lowell observatory, now located near the City of Mexico, says that a rift has been observed since Jan. 7 in the north polar cap of Mars in longitude 40. This "rift" is probably similar to those observed at the opposition of 1894 in the southern cap. Prof. W. H. Pickering, with a six-inch telescope, found one in May 22, crossing the cap from longitude 330 to 170. This grew considerable in size, measurements made on June 6 and 15 indicating a width of 100 and 350 miles, respectively. Mr. Douglass also during the same month—June 10—detected a second and third rift, the latter running from longitude 170 to 90. The sequence of phenomena observed seems to indicate that they are due to the lower levels at the poles being uncovered. In this way, as the snow melts, the bare ground is exposed, appearing dark in contrast to the snow still lying on the more elevated heights. Their broadening is then a natural result of the departing snow, and indicates that the polar cap is at that time in a far-advanced state of disintegration.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from the grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for the grippe, we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventative of that dread disease. It will effect a permanent cure in less time than any other treatment. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by D. J. Brannen's Drug Store.

The city of Belfast, Ireland, has been making a large profit on the gas works controlled by it. Last year's profit was £67,377. It has been decided to lower the cost to consumers, although the present price is ridiculously low, according to American standards. Hereafter gas will be sold for 60 cents per 1,000 feet instead of 65 cents, and there will be a discount of from 5 per cent to 20 per cent, dependent upon the amount consumed; all this, too, with coal at $3.09 per ton. United States Consul Taney at Belfast has supplied the department of State with a full statement of the cost of producing Belfast's gas, regarding the subject as interesting to Americans just now.
